

Ground Photo of Interests at Wind Cave National Park

Figure 1-1. Young Ponderosa Pine Dense Cover Complex area

Figure 1-2. Leadplant Shrubland

Figure 1-3. Western Great Plains Streamside Vegetation

Figure 1-4. Birch - Aspen Stand

Figure 1-5. Bison Wallow

Figure 1-6. Western Great Plains Streamside Vegetation

Figure 1-7. Aristida purpurea / Dyssodia papposa Herbaceous Vegetation

Figure 1-8. Buffalo in Western Wheatgrass

Figure 1-9. Sparsely vegetated redbed in the Red Valley

Figure 1-10. Red Valley region with the Dakota Hogback (Boland Ridge) in the background

Figure 1-11. Limestone rock outcrops

Figure 1-12. Evidence of a historic forest fire that occurred just north of Wind Cave National Park

Figure 1-13. Ponderosa pine with a mixed graminoid understory dominated by sun sedge

Figure 1-14. A needle-and-thread – blue grama grassland on a small hill with a high proportion of leadplant

Figure 1-15. A burned ponderosa pine slope now supporting mixed graminoids

Figure 1-16. Dense mountain mahogany map unit occurring on a north-facing slope